

Model Portfolio Workshops

The model portfolio or 'Model Book' is making a come back. With the ease of building online portfolios in social networks like Facebook & Myspace no wonder everyone is a 'male model' these days. If you're serious about landing a paying gig with a reputable client, you have to stand out. Now more than ever, a professionally developed model book is a tool that allows you to stand out from the online crowd. Want To Learn more about what a model portfolio is (and is not)? Check out this white paper how to build a portfolio .

If you're serious about landing jobs, it's important to keep updating your portfolio regularly with modern, professional shots that show the diversity and commercial value of your look.

Our Portfolio Building workshops for male models are a great way to get your first professional model book assembled or a great way for established models update their books with fresh, modern looking shots.

Check out our workshop options below and feel free to contact us with any questions you may have. All workshops take place in the great Ft. Lauderdale area. Please Note: We will be offering workshops in select cities later in 2008. Please contact us if you're interested
